

BRENT WILLIAMS

2012 - Present

UI DESIGNER AT ZENMONICS

I am lead designer for various mobile and web applications. My duties include creating initial concepts, communicating those ideas to the business and programming teams and documenting the designs. I also design many promotional and internal documents.

Recently, I created a new branding for the company, including a new logo, website design and brand standards manual. My work can be found at WilliamsCommaBrent.com

2010 - 2012

PEACE CORPS VOLUNTEER

I lived in Ecuador, where I taught health education and served as design editor for various Peace Corps publications, including newsletters and advertisements. Toward the end of my service, I was the safety contact for volunteers in my region.

2010

BA FROM UNC CHAPEL HILL

I received a BA in Journalism and Mass Communication - Visual Communication - Graphic Design.

During my time as a student, I served on the design staff of the school newspaper, worked as a design intern for the student union and earned recognition as a Public Service Scholar for my community service and academic achievements.
